NEW RESIDENTS BEGIN NMMC'S FAMILY MEDICINE RESIDENCY PROGRAM

TUPELO, Miss—The North Mississippi Medical Center Family Medicine Residency Program has six new residents beginning the program.

The new residents are:

- Paul Bohnen, M.D., of Sacramento, Calif., who graduated from Sacramento State University with a bachelor's degree in biological sciences and a minor in chemistry. He completed his master's degree and medical training at the Rosalind Franklin University of Medicine and Science in North Chicago, Ill.
- Melanie Keene Hall, M.D., a Hattiesburg native who graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi with a bachelor's degree in biology, and received her medical training at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine in Jackson.
- Candice Johnson, D.O., of Henderson, Tenn., who graduated from the University of Memphis with a bachelor's degree in biology and a minor in chemistry. She received her medical training from the Pikeville College School of Osteopathic Medicine in Kentucky.
- Brad Ramsey, D.O., of Mt. Juliet, Tenn., who received a bachelor's degree in kinesiology from Arizona State University and received his medical training from the Virginia College of Osteopathic Medicine in Blacksburg, Va.
- Christie Theriot, M.D., of Houma, La., who received a bachelor's degree from Nicholls State University in Thibodaux, La., and completed her medical training at Tulane University School of Medicine in New Orleans.
- Paul Watkins, M.D., of Laurel, who graduated from Mississippi State University with a bachelor's degree in fine arts. He received his medical training at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine.

“The family medicine residency training program emphasizes quality medical education through traditional medical and surgical rotations. The program's quality is also enhanced by a broad-based curriculum in family medicine in the NMMC Family Medicine Residency Center and in rural rotations throughout North Mississippi Medical Clinics,” said Edward Hill, M.D., interim residency director. “Our primary goal is to increase the number of board-certified family physicians in Mississippi, and this program is leading us in that direction.”
