BARNES CROSSING MEDICAL CLINIC WELCOMES NEW DOCTOR

TUPELO, Miss.—Barnes Crossing Medical Clinic is pleased to announce that Brad Crosswhite, M.D., is joining the clinic for the practice of family medicine.

Dr. Crosswhite joins Dr. Barry Jones at the clinic. Drs. Jeff Brown, Michael Gipson and Billy R. Walton and nurse practitioners Terry Miller, Mary Ann Fleming-Parker and Pam Hodges comprise the medical staff at Barnes Crossing Urgent Care Clinic next door.

Dr. Crosswhite graduated summa cum laude from David Lipscomb University in Nashville with a bachelor's degree in biology and Spanish. He received his medical training at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine in Jackson, where he graduated magna cum laude. During his studies he received the Miller Pittman Medical Scholarship and the F.A. Hunt Scholarship. He was an American Medical Association Foundation Scholar in 2006 and 2007, and a member of Phi Kappa Phi and Alpha Omega Alpha honor medical societies.

He recently completed his training at North Mississippi Medical Center's Family Medicine Residency Center, where he served as chief resident.

Dr. Crosswhite is the son of Ronnie and Kathy Crosswhite. He resides in Tupelo with his wife, Angie, daughter, Emily, and the family is expecting a son in September. He is an active community volunteer and leads annual mission trips to Honduras with his church, West Main Church of Christ.

Barnes Crossing Medical Clinic is located at 903 Mississippi Drive in Tupelo. For appointment information, call (662) 377-4652 or 1-800-THE DESK (1-800-843-3375).
